

First Annual Networking Chicago Data Mining Practitioners
Wine & Cheese at NCDM.

August 24, 2007

Noon –3 pm.

706 Science and Engineering Offices
University of Illinois at Chicago
851 S. Morgan Street

We hope that attendees will agree to give a short (~5 min) presentation to the group. Feel free to use a few slides and bring handout material, if you wish. Basically, we'd like to offer attendees the opportunity to briefly talk about the topic of their choice, an interesting project or collaboration, or some idea relevant to this group that you are interested in pursuing.

We'll have open discussions and plenty of wine & cheese to inspire our creativity.

Noon - 12:15	Introductions
12:15 – 12: 45	Five minute talks by Robert Grossman, Bamshad Mobasher, Daniela Raicu, Svetlana Levitan, DongPing Fang, and Chad Cumby
12: 45 – 1: 30	Open Discussion and Comments
1: 30 – 2:00	Five minute talks by Bing Liu, Doug Bryan, James Evans, Jen Schopf, Andrey Rzhetsky and Yaron Rachlin
